

Argentinosaurus was one of the biggest dinosaurs that ever lived! It walked on four long legs and had a very long neck and tail, like a giant plant-eating giraffe. This amazing dinosaur lived millions of years ago in what is now Argentina, and it spent most of its time munching on leaves from tall trees. Even though it was enormous, Argentinosaurus was gentle and ate only plants.